Scope: core stats, character generation, weapon and medical skill hierarchy, weapon ranges, hit rolls, wound distribution, healing, and weapon-related special rules only.

1. Core Stats And Character Generation

The 2018 stat list says Regular Knowledge and Irregular Knowledge, while the descriptive text says Regular Intelligence and Irregular Intelligence. This comparison sheet uses the Intelligence labels for side-by-side readability.

Statistic	Abbrev.	Rules use
Regular Intelligence	RE	Academic or formal knowledge; the broadest skill base.
Irregular Intelligence	IR	Understanding things with limited experience and across less formal fields.
Appearance	AP	Social presentation, class/status fit, grooming, and ability to blend into a setting.
Physical Health	PH	Bodily health, strenuous activity, physical durability, and movement strain.
Mental Health	ME	Mental state, fatigue, and some operational skills.

Character Generation Procedure

- Roll three d6 and record the three top-face values.
- Choose any two of those dice and turn each to its opposite face; mathematically this is 7 minus the original value.
- You now have five values: the three rolled values plus the two opposite-face values.
- Choose one of the five values to receive +2. Add +1 to each of the other four values.
- Assign the final five values to RE, IR, AP, PH, and ME.

Stat Limits And Skill Accounting

- Each stat is valued 0 to 10.
- Initial total across the five stats must not exceed 30.
- Detailed play can raise the combined maximum to 40.
- A player is allowed one skill per statistic point in each area; prerequisites count against that skill accounting.
- Skills are percentage values from 0 to 100, but this rules extract does not add the 2024 use-based advancement table.
